Art Star: Gallery & Boutique

New work by Jason Sho Green

April 1st – May 15th, 2005

Special Preview & Sushi Party: March 30th, 5-9 PM

Art Star is pleased to be exhibiting the work of self taught, Seattle artist, Jason Sho Green, from April 1st – May 15th, 2005. Urban hipsters contemplate love & relationships and occasionally even hang out with robots in Green's first solo exhibition of paintings and drawings.

Jason Sho Green graduated from the University of Washington in 2002 with a degree in electrical engineering (with a focus in robotics and embedded systems) and a minor in math. Much of his time at U of W was spent doodling in notebooks during boring lectures. He decided 2 years ago that drawing was what he loved to do, and since then he has focused on his freelance graphic design and illustration career.

Green's studies in robotics have influenced his work, as did childhood summers spent visiting his oba-chan in Japan – watching anime & playing with toys in department stores. He states, "There's something about being a curious kid in a land where you don't understand the language - you take in all the visuals and are forced to create your own story. This is essentially the same process I follow now - unable (or not wanting) to understand what's going on around me - and narrating it as I see fit." Please join us for a special preview of his latest body of work on Wednesday, March 30th, from 5-9 PM.

Art Star is a gallery & boutique located in Northern Liberties, Philadelphia. We exhibit and sell handmade work of all media by fresh artists, designers, and crafters. We strive to carry work that is innovative & superbly crafted, while also creating & supporting a network of artists. Our exhibitions rotate every 6 weeks and our boutique offers shoppers everything from handmade clothes, jewelry & accessories to dolls, ceramics & prints.
